Audubon Communities Streamlines Investor Experience with Juniper Square Software

ATLANTA, January 18, 2018– Audubon Communities, an Atlanta-based firm specializing in the acquisition and management of multifamily properties throughout the Southeast, announced that its investor relations platform will now be available through the cloud-based software program Juniper Square.

Audubon’s focused value-add approach to real estate investment has consistently generated attractive risk-adjusted returns for their investors. With the launch of Juniper Square, the firm’s investors will have real-time, 24-hour access to all of their investment information displayed as a personalized, consolidated portfolio.

“As our firm continues to grow, investing in this type of technology infrastructure was a clear next step for us,” said Chris Edwards, managing director for Audubon. “By automating this process for our investors, we are improving reporting functionality and streamlining our workflow.”

Juniper Square was designed specifically for investors in the real estate industry and actively tracks account balances, contributions, unfunded amounts and distributions. The operating system will allow Audubon investors to sign in to their personal account through the firm’s website and view a dashboard of relevant investment information including financial reporting, tax forms, investment updates and distribution notices.
